Decision making

The Operational Framework sets out the principles of good governance to which BAE Systems Group subsidiaries are required to adhere, together with BAE Systems Group's values, policies and processes. Decisions affecting a subsidiary are required to be taken in line with the Operational Framework, including in accordance with applicable delegations of authority.

Pursuant to the Operational Framework, BAE Systems' businesses each produce a strategic plan, a financial forecast for the current year and financial projections for the next five years. The directors of the Company contribute towards this process for the respective businesses of the Company for which they are responsible and are also responsible for identifying and managing principal and emerging risks in such businesses. In so doing, the directors have regard to a variety of matters including the interests of various stakeholders, the consequences of their decisions in the long term and the long-term reputation of the Company and its businesses.

Employees

The Company does not have any employees. The staff running the operations and business of the Company are employed through other BAE Systems Group companies and it is the interests of these employees which are taken into account by the directors of the Company and the management boards of the other employing companies, see below.

The security, safety, wellbeing, skills, capabilities and commitment of the Company's people are critical to ensuring the long-term viability of the Company's business and delivering the innovation needed to solve the Company's customers' complex challenges.

Effective engagement enables the Company's employees to contribute to improving business performance and helps the Company to create an environment in which everyone is safe, valued and can fulfil their potential.

The Company used a range of channels to engage with employees throughout the year, as well as keeping employees informed about the performance, developments and prospects of the business and the BAE Systems Group. Please see Page 77 of BAE Systems plc's 2024 Annual Report (available at: www.baesystems.com/investors) for a description of the means by which the Company can engage with its employees.

The BAE Systems Group operates an Employee Incentive Scheme which entitles certain eligible employees to a financial benefit against the achievement of a set of business and programme milestones. This ensures that those eligible employees feel connected with, and are invested in, the BAE Systems Group's achievements.

These engagement activities form part of the Company's implementation of the BAE Systems group-wide employee engagement processes and policies which are described on pages 24 to 27 and 77 of BAE Systems plc's 2024 Annual Report (available at: www.baesystems.com/investors). Through the implementation by the Company of these processes and policies, the directors have regard to the interests of the Company's employees.

Fostering business relationships with suppliers, customers and others

The directors recognise that understanding the Company's customers' needs and challenges is central to the Company's strategy and how and where it invests in technologies and infrastructure. Delivering on customer commitments is critical to the BAE Systems Group's mission to protect those who protect us and drives the Company's focus on operational excellence.

The Company provides air transport services in support of the BAE Systems' lines of business and occasionally to external customers through an ad hoc charter service. Strong and collaborative relationships with our customers help us to identify our customers' requirements and to help position the Company as a trusted provider.

The Company works with its suppliers to provide equipment and services that meet its operational requirements. Due to its operations, the Company also has a strong relationship with the UK Civil Aviation Authority (UK CAA) which conducts regular audits on the Company's flight operations and associated approvals.

The Company's supplier and regulatory relationships are key to ensuring safe and efficient flight operations and the directors recognise the importance of working with and developing strategic relationships with key suppliers and the UK CAA.

The community and the environment

The directors recognise the importance of leading a company that not only generates value for shareholders but also contributes to wider society. The Company implements the requirements of the BAE Systems Group's Community Investment Policy, which is mandated through the Operational Framework, and looks to ensure that the Company builds and nurtures mutually beneficial relationships between its business, its people and local stakeholders. Giving back to the communities in which the BAE Systems Group operates, and to charities that have meaning to its business, is vitally important to the BAE Systems Group and its employees, allowing the BAE Systems Group to make a positive difference and have an impact where it operates.

The Company recognises that its operations have an impact on the environment - from the energy and resources it uses, to the products it manufactures and the waste that it generates. As an organisation, the BAE Systems Group is committed to prudently reducing the environmental impact of its operations and products, minimising its environmental footprint and, in turn, decreasing its operational costs. Through the Operational Framework, the Company implements the requirements of the BAE Systems Group's Climate Response and Environment Policy, which details the Group's commitment to high standards of environmental management. In particular, the Company is supporting the Group's targets to "reduce greenhouse gas emissions across our operations (Scopes 1 and 2) by 2030" and works towards a net zero value chain by 2050.

All the above activities form part of the Company's implementation of the BAE Systems Group-wide
